

Next Meeting Of Macclesfield Canal Society

Dear Member

The next meeting of the Society is due to take place on the Thursday 10th September with Daniel Greenhalgh, the NW Regional Director of the Canal and River Trust.

The Silk Trader has yet to re-open their function room and in any case, it does not have sufficient room for us to socially distance in accordance with the Government Guidelines. It is therefore intended a virtual meeting using Zoom software at the earlier time of 7.30 on the 10th to allow everybody to log in. No doubt many of you will be familiar with Zoom by now but for those that have not used it before it is extremely easy to use. Nearer the time I will send out invitations for you to join the meeting which will include a link which you click on and then follow the very simple instructions on the screen.

The format of the meeting has yet to be agreed but it will include a presentation by Daniel and a question and answer session. With regard to the latter and given that the meeting is being held in a slightly more awkward environment it is important that you let me know of any topics or questions you wish covered by 3 September on stewjen78@gmail.com

It would also be helpful if you would let know on this e-mail address if you intend to join the meeting.

Unfortunately, we do not have e-mail addresses for all our members. It would helpful if you could mention any member you know about this e-mail if they received to let Kate Bonson know their e-mail address on membership@macclesfieldcanal.org.uk

Finally and in case you have not managed to learn about from another source HALOUS, due to be held at the end of the month, has been cancelled because of Covid19.
